EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Financial operations professional with more than thirteen years of ground-level experience in the places where money actually moves: the cash drawer, the night audit, the branch camera feed, and the collection run. Progressed from front-office hospitality service into revenue control and treasury routines, and currently responsible for multi-branch cash collection, monitoring, and incident investigation at a specialty coffee company in Madinah.

Business Administration graduate with First Class Honors (GPA 4.83/5), earned part-time while working full-time — a documented record of discipline under sustained pressure. Today, that operational foundation is being multiplied by daily, hands-on use of AI: prompt-engineered reporting, AI-assisted reconciliation and investigation write-ups, and the redesign of manual workflows into structured, assisted processes. The objective is a management role where finance, operations, and intelligent automation converge.

SIGNATURE STRENGTHS

- Cash governance: multi-branch collection, control, and escalation routines that keep revenue whole and traceable.
- Operational monitoring: CCTV-based branch oversight, exception logging, and fair, fact-based incident investigation.
- Revenue discipline: seven years of night audit, rate control, and daily revenue closings in hospitality.
- AI enablement: practical adoption of ChatGPT, Claude, and Gemini for reporting, documentation, and workflow redesign — with human verification built in.
- Bilingual communication: operates comfortably across Arabic and English business environments.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Financial Collector — Cash & Branch Operations ControlJuly 2024 – Present

Specialty Coffee Company — Madinah, Saudi Arabia

- Carry out daily cash collection and control across multiple retail branches, protecting revenue between the point of sale and the bank.
- Resolve cashier and POS discrepancies at the source; investigate irregularities and drive incidents to documented closure.
- Monitor branch activity through CCTV and structured communications, deterring and detecting fraud and giving management a reliable view of floor reality.
- Apply AI-assisted workflows to reporting and investigation documentation, raising consistency and freeing time for control work.

Front Office & Revenue — Reservations Manager / Night AuditorMay 2017 – June 2024

Al-Jar Resort — Al-Rayis, Saudi Arabia

- Managed and controlled room pricing and revenue across seasons in a demand-volatile resort market.
- Performed the nightly close throughout seven years: account audits, cashier audits, cash-drawer closings, and daily revenue closings.
- Managed reservations end to end and contributed to budget preparation.

Front Office Receptionist

January 2015 – January 2016

Pride Basset Apartments Hotel — Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

- Reservations management and front-line customer service in the capital's hospitality market.

Front Office Receptionist

June 2011 – December 2013

Al-Sondos Hotel — Madinah, Saudi Arabia

- Reservations and guest service including Hajj and Umrah delegations — high-volume, high-sensitivity operations.

TRANSFORMATION INITIATIVES (DESIGN & ACTIVE PRACTICE)

- Financial middleware (design): a reconciliation layer matching POS totals, collection records, and bank deposits, surfacing exceptions only.
- Branch operations dashboard (design): one daily view per branch — collections, discrepancies, observations, and open incidents.
- AI reporting workflow (in daily use): reusable prompt templates converting raw figures and field notes into consistent management reports.

Initiatives are presented transparently as designs and active personal practice, not as completed enterprise deployments.
